

Spectre

The only thing wrong with the film is Sam Smith's theme (sadly he clearly doesn't have a wise and honest pair of ears around him anymore). Apart from that, great fun, packed with fabulous action. I've been in virtually every venue over the summer (cars can't drive that way around the Colosseum anymore James) especially one scene in Tangier which was exactly the steep steps I take every day (the best avocado pears in the city are sold at the bottom of the steps). It's not quite as great as Skyfall (probably the best Bond film ever) or Casino Royale (very close) but excellent.
