

Dear BBC

Monday, 04 September 2017

You allowed a victim of Beale on TV News to say how appalling his experience had been; then you ruined it by saying that false allegations are rare because there are so few prosecutions and convictions.

Really; do you not understand that thousands don't get to court and the hundreds that do, and result in wrongful convictions, do not get overturned?

Are you blind?

Or stupid?

Or deliberately conspiring to pervert the course of justice?