

Despite the share price, Sanctuary is very healthy...

Their merchandising division (T Shirts; ringtones) is making massive profits.
They distribute (via Pinnacle) more hits and sellers than any company that's not a major.
Their management is doing great (Blunt at the top of the US charts and loads of other artistes touring and breaking).
They have trimmed their roster; got rid of failed executives; cut back on insane US expenditure...
at .25p a share, well worth investing, say those who know.
