

The Modern; Brilliant ruse? Silly mistake? Conspiracy theory?

Thursday, 16 March 2006

Questions that need answering.

Does Tom Watkins manage the band?

Did he come up with the idea to get them removed from the chart; thus obtaining far more publicity than a mere entry at 13 would have done?

Or was it the brainchild of Richard Marshall... now mysteriously removed from office?

Or was it Jason Iley's wheeze?

Or was it a genuine mistake (surely EVERYONE knows HMV online retailers are the easiest and most checked source of product?).

And most of all... does anybody care?

Answers due this weekend.
