

Judge Paget's Exact words when giving sentence

Saturday, 26 May 2007

"I accept that no violence, coercion or threats were used. I accept that the evidence of those complainants was that you desisted when they expressed unhappiness and that there was no cruelty. I further accept that the precise ages of the complainants were very difficult to assess.